Michelle CurryMonday, 12/19/11, 6:14 PM Hi Bernice, I was reading my email from Tucker saddles and saw the segmant about you, The Long Rider. Seeing your last name Ende, and then further reading that you were from Minnesota, (I am from Minnesota also, Ellendale.) I thought maybe she is related to a customer of mine, Carol Ende. Carol and her husband Jim would bring their awesome dog Maddie in for grooming at my grooming shop here in Wimberley. Further reading, I see you are Carol's sister. I enjoyed looking thru your website and wish you the best of luck in your Long Rides! Elizabeth O'LearyMonday, 12/19/11, 4:11 PM Enjoy reading of your adventures. I've traveled all over the USA, not by horse, but by 18 wheeler. I drove a semi for 38 yrs. and am retired now. Always had horses, but never had time to ride. I'm 71 now and taking some riding lessons. I haven't been on a horse in 40 yrs, but I just can't see my paint going to waste. I have a 24 yro Belgian (have her 24 yrs) she went blind at 10 yro. She has a buddy (he's a recue). Her mom died 2 yrs ago, so I got her a buddy. Her mom was 26 when she died (love of my life). When Penney (Belgian) dies, I would love to sell this house, buy an live in horse trailer and go around the country. I would love to do what your doing, but that take experience. By the time I get the experience, I'll be to old or dead. LOL. art lamelySunday, 11/13/11, 10:03 AM Howdy from art and sue. Once again we are so sorry for your loss. If I would ever lose my BIG JOHN I just wouldn't go on. So your tougher than me. Around early june of 2011 near Ralls Tx big john got his left leg tangled in his lead rope while on the picket line and went down hard. He pulled his hind quarter muscles so we decided to stay in a pasture and give him and the others some time off. With just over 2000 miles from april 2010 to april 2011 we didn't mind. After choking on dirty thirties sand storms and smoke from the wild fires burning south of us we decided to go back to springerville, az. We mustard up enough money to get us all trailered back only to have to be evacuated because of what is now az's largest wild fire. Two weeks later we came back and been here ever since. Since we have a to work our way around and all the low end jobs are gone we thought it best to try to winter here in springerville. Im working in a local boot and saddle shop and sue does house work for our room and board. Hay with tax is twenty dollars a bale. We might have to do a winter ride out of here but to where? Almost all the grass burned up in the far south and with no work, well I guess fate will take its course. Anyway hope to see you out there sometime. Until then be safe and keep leaning into the wind. Delva GibsonThursday, 11/3/11, 10:19 AM Dear "Followers" I was so lucky to recently spend time with Bernice and her crew. She asked me to post the message that Hart is doing VERY WELL. She rode him for the first time since his injury last Sunday. She rode him bareback on a gentle short ride and he was full of himself and walked right out ,ready to GO SOMEWHERE. I watched him canter across the pasture the day before and he moved balanced and freely. She will work with him this winter for continued improvement, and will let you know how he is doing. She thanks you all for your concern and queries. She is a truly amazing LADY. Pamela Sweetser Saturday, 10/1/11, 7:27 AM Dear Bernice Ende, Searching online for a Tucker saddle (coincidentally a Black Mt.) for my new paint mare, I came across Outfitters Supply and then you! Years ago I read Christina Dodwell's A Traveller on Horseback & ever after I fantasized doing what you are doing. Life's ways allowed me only to achieve a few thousand miles as a long distance competitive trail rider and an occasional endurance racer. Reading your website's tales and looking at your pictures moves me deeply. Though I live on the northeast roof of the country, I have visited some of the southern and western locations you have ridden. I have only ridden Durango, Colorado, and Jackson Hole, Wyoming, but I have slept on some of the same ground under the same stars you have during our many summer adventures on the great West's side trails, mountains, deserts, and byways. You ARE an inspiration and a role model for all ages in general, and for women in particular. You are now my modern day Odysseus, for whom it was the journey, not the destination, that mattered. You remind me of these words from Alfred, Lord Tennyson's "Ulysses" "I am a part of all that I have met; Yet all experience is an arch wherethrough Gleams that untravelled world, whose margin fades For ever and for ever when I move." Best, and good going for you, the horses, and the dog. Holly Saturday, 7/2/11, 10:02 PM Hi Bernice! I had heard about you last year when you were passing through Midland, TX. I got so excited to hear of your story because my Husband, Son and I are planning to ride Horseback from Midland, TX to Cheyenne, Wyo in just under a month from now. I had to look you up on line just to see how you were getting along and if you had any tips you could share? We are going on this ride to unplug from the ratrace and return to our roots for a while. Were selling the house and everything we own to head out horseback. We have always been horse people and feel as though this is something were suppose to do. Both my Husband and I are so excited about the people we'll meet along the way as well as just being out there...on the backs of our horses...taking it all in. You are such an inspiration. Thank you so much! If I don't hear from you, May God continue to bless you on your journey and keep you safe and protected at all times, surrounding you with His angels every step of the way!

LisaTuesday, 6/28/11, 10:09 AM Hey Friend, So glad you are just a hop, skip and jump from being home. I know the road has been long and there have been ups and some downs, but mostly ups, I know that from our conversations. Ride into those familiar smiles of your Trego friends, rest easy and I know you...your fanny will be itching to get back in that saddle in about a week! :) I so love it that our paths crossed over this last adventure of yours. I look forward to staying in touch and pulling up with the "rolling resort and spa" again when you get back out on the road. Love ya Bernice (and Hart, Essie P and Claire-muah, muah, muah)! glenda rothacherMonday, 6/27/11, 7:58 PM I met Bernice this morning on her last leg home to Trego on the outskirts of Kalispell. I knew the minute I looked out my office window it was Bernice with her paint horse and faithful dog riding on the pack horse. Bernice you impress me so much. I live north of Kalispell directly across from the area you are probably camping in right now for the evening. I would love to be able to sit down with you and listen to your stories, your fears and your biggest delights. I wish I would have had mosquito spray and water to give you this morning but unfortunately I did not - as I am sure you are needing the spray now. You truly are an amazing person. Chrissy Tate Thursday, 6/16/11, 7:01 PM One of the greatest days of my life, meeting Bernice, Claire, Hart and Essie pearl. I was driving to Polson from ST. Ignatius and saw them in a parking lot. I turned around and came back to meet these travelers and found out they were on their way home from their 6000 mile journey. The sad part was they were leaving and I only had minutes to visit. I managed a few photos and off they went. Returning from polson I spotted the team and once more turned truck around and went back to say a quick "Hi" and snap a few more pics. I am so impressed with the dedication of the longrider !!! Mary Kate BolingSunday, 5/15/11, 8:26 PM Bernice, We spent maybe 15 seconds interacting at the Gallatin County Fairgrounds in Bozeman, Montana on Friday, May 13th. I came home from work that day exhausted and read about the draft horse auction at the fairgrounds. I reluctantly headed over around 5pm. I was hesitant as I have no experience with horses, but find them beautiful and fascinating. I almost didn't go because I am such a city girl and at 47 years old, felt timid about rubbing elbows with a bunch of cowboys. Almost didn't get out of the car...but I did. I had the pleasure of viewing the gorgeous giant draft horses up close in their stalls. I then went to another barn and ran into you. I asked if I could look at your horses and you replied, "Sure! Those are the traveling horses!" I asked you what a traveling horse was and you gave me a postcard. My jaw dropped when I read it. I am currently reinventing myself going back to school to become a nurse. Bernice, your sense of adventure is a joy to witness. It's amazing how in less than a minute you touched my life. Diane Bingeman Friday, 2/4/11, 6:52 AM Hi Bernice. We met in Wibaux, MT on a Saturday when you visited the Wibaux Co. Nursing Home. I was visiting my mother that day and my mother and I had the pleasure of hearing you play piano and listen to your very interesting stories about your travels. Needless to say, I am in awe of you and your spirit for adventure. My mother passed away on Nov. 4, 2010 quiet suddenly. She would have been 91 yr. old on Dec. 29th. She lived a long life and I am thankful she did not linger and suffer. I see by your last note, you are starting to make travel plans. Good luck and if you ever get back to Beach, North Dakota I am easy to find. Debbie Larson Sunday, 1/30/11, 10:50 AM Hi, Bernice! My husband & I met you this past fall at the cafe in Terry, MT. We were there antelope hunting (we live in Lewistown). I just wanted you to know that you made an impression on me & I've caught myself thinking of you every so often since then. I know you have a friend that lives here also, she was there with you in Terry. If you're ever passing through give a shout if you need anything. I am one of the local pet groomers here. Anyway, Happy New Year & hope this finds you & your critters doing well. RhondaThursday, 1/20/11, 7:28 AM I have always dreamed of doing what you do. Perhaps not for as long and as far as you have ridden but I still dream.... The few things that you don't seem to include in your posts is, how do you go through really congested areas, how you pick a camping spot, what happens if it gets dark and there is no good place to stop, what do you eat? Where I live it is very rural but I still could not ride my horse down the side of the road or on the road because of idiots that go too fast and reckless. I'm from Texas and know the shoulders there are very wide so I understand that. The shoulder of the roads here are too small and ditches too deep. Can you write about some of the day to day how you get by stuff. The really mundane things of your travels interest me. Good luck with all of your travels, and if you are ever in Georgia, I have a barn and a bed waiting for you. Jan Meyer Thursday, 10/21/10, 11:26 AM We were fortunate enough to have Bernice & crew stay with us up here in Rogers, MN. It was such a wonderful experience. I kind of think to her she felt like she was coming home. As she & I rode thru Crow-Hassan Park (site of former family home-stead) I could tell she was reliving the wonderful rides she took as a young person thru the back roads, & woods. She was spouting off names of old friends as we journeyed along the path. She got to reconnect with family & friends she hadn't seen in many years. We hope they come back for another visit. Mari Jo Blend Friday, 9/17/10, 8:50 PM Hi Bernice I am so excited to see that you are riding again. Wade saw you in Glen Ulin North Dakota September 17th and I sure wish that I could have been with him to visit with you again. When you came up through the panhandle of Texas did you go near Stephenville Texas? If you did, you passed right by me. Would have been great to see you. You inspired me to follow my dreams when I met you. I am now living in Texas and working for Clinton Anderson and Downunder Horsemanship. It is a dream come true. Thank you for being you and for your courage to pursue your dreams. Keep riding and when you pass through Texas be sure to stop by. fredaTuesday, 8/31/10, 2:00 PM Fascinated to read of your accomplishments. It really tugs at the adventure in my heart...yes still there at 73. God has blessed me with good health, strength, motivation and love of exploration. Not too long ago my husband and I did 31 days in the Az wilderness, having set ut "caches" of supplies at various points ahead of time. Would love to do something similar to what you do, just somewhat overwhelmed at the logistics of the planning. Will be anxiously reading your information to learn . God Bless you in you endeavor. KAROLYN KOPPSSunday, 8/8/10, 10:10 AM I ENJOYED MY INTRODUCTION TO BERNICE, AND MY VISIT WITH HER. WHEN I WAS 12 YEARS OLD, I FELT THAT I HAD THE SAME KIND FO ADVENTURE ON HORSEBACK. I MOUNTED MY HORSE AND RODE THE TRAIN TRACKS TO MY GRAND PARENTS DAIRY FARM MANY MILES AWAY. I HAD NEVER RODE THERE BEFORE. I HAD NEVER RODE THE TRAIN TRACKS BEFORE EITHER. AT AGE 12, I FELT THAT MY PARENTS HAD GIVEN ME MY RIGHT TO ADULthood, BECAUSE I NOW WAS THE SOLE PERSON MAKING DECISIONS ABOUT HOW TO GET FROM POINT "A" TO POINT "B" SAFELY. Ashleigh CarlsonMonday, 8/2/10, 11:24 AM Dear Bernice, I have always wanted to do long distance riding. My dream is to ride the Pacific Crest Trail from Canada to Mexico. This hasn't been possible for many reasons, but I continue to hope that I could do this or if it is never possible, that a person like you could live my dream. I have ridden mostly in the western US and have done several wagon rides in Minnesota. My longest ride was 100 miles on the Tevis Cup ride trail, going 30 miles a day. I admire you and wish you well! Laura Zinsitz Saturday, 7/31/10, 9:34 PM Wow! Bernice, you have really inspired me! I have dreamed of going on a long ride ever since I was a kid when I read about Aime Tschiffely's ride. I had no idea horsemen and women were still riding across the country until I found out about the long riders guild on the web. I wasn't sure if it was possible in this high tech day and age but your courage and spirit have trully made an impression on me. I would be honored to meet you one day, and host you and your brave horses at my home. There's a pasture and plenty of hay waiting for you if you ever stop by! Patricia BabcockTuesday, 6/8/10, 9:34 AM Enjoyed meeting you and Lisa. You have been in my thoughts since, I wonder how far you have gone and what the weather is like each nite when you camp. Wish you could have spent more time in the area. You have lots of interesting stories. I admire your determination and ability to endure the elements of nature. Takes a tough soul and body to make it the distances that you travel. Wish you could have came over to the house with Lisa, and that I would have been prepared to have you for a meal. Wednesday, 4/21/10, 3:46 PM Folks that are following Bernice.....there is a bit of a crisis with her newest pup, Francis. Apparently she ate something that has sent her to the vet, possibly poison, they are not sure. She is doing better, but there will be a big vet bill....she has been on IV fluids and such. If you would like to help out on Francis' vet bill, I am providing the contact info where Francis is being cared for by loving folks. You can either call and donate via credit card or let them know you will be sending a check: Dr. Ben Ed Hillhouse 1309 W. Jackie Fleming Wednesday, 4/14/10, 1:18 PM Hi Bernice I just got your card and have read your updates on this site. I am in tears thinking of Honor, I find it hard to even come up with words of comfort, they all seem so lame. I know what it is like to lose horses and some of those have had a special bond and it is truly like losing a piece of yourself. I am sure it is worse when you have shared so much with that soul that nobody else will ever know of or see or feel. Along with Claire and Essie, you guys have been through so much that all of us can only read about and only if you write it down. It must be hard to move on and leave her behind but I am glad you can. 'Hart' sounds like a lovely new friend supplied by yet more friends. Good luck with the rest of the trip and safe travels to you all. Keep in touch! Love Jackie From: Santa Fe, NM Email: skydogjackie@rocketmail.com

Laura Paul Monday, 4/12/10, 8:44 PM Bernice, It was great to meet you. Astonished and in awe of your accomplishments of such a dangerous trek on horseback. I admire your courage. Thank you for blessing me with our conversation on Sunday morning. You have been on my mind as severe weather rolls through the Panhandle of Texas and how caring and committed to your animals. I only wish more people would show dedication and commitment to their animal. The world would be a better place. Thank you for opening my eyes to the blessings that strangers can bestow on one another. Please keep in touch! May God be your strength during your journey. Cheryl Kaluza Monday, 4/12/10, 7:36 PM Hi Bernice, My husband and I saw you on the road twice (between Llano and Brady, TX) with horse and dog. Something about you struck us and I kept thinking about you & wondering about your story. Then we saw an article in the Brady paper about you being a Long Rider and a bit of your story. I told my sister in Iowa your story and she wanted to meet you also. I think that she has sent you an email to which you replied. I hope you meet her-- she is lovely. I am sorry to hear about the loss of your horse, Honor, in Texas but happy to hear about your new horse, Hart. I wish you much luck & many blessings on the ride ahead. If you ever make it back to Voca, TX (near Brady), just know that you have an invitation to stay at our ranch. We will be retiring there at the end of this year. Sincerely, Cheryl & Mike

Lisa "Bucky" Eades Monday, 4/5/10, 3:25 PM I just spent two days camping with Bernice at the baseball field in Spur, TX. For those of you wanting to meet her, she is heading north on 70, going towards Dickens, Roaring Springs and Turkey, TX. If you find her and can help her out with a place to stay, she is most, most appreciative. Folks, she is an incredible person. A once-in-a- lifetime, you-gotta-meet-her type person. A true gem traveling the backroads of our country with a heart so big, you won't believe it. Her horses are beautiful and little Francis the dog...she is something else! I wanted to take Essie away with me, but she wouldn't fit in my car! Hart is just that, all heart and such a handsome guy. When you encounter Bernice on the road, it will literally take your breath away and when you leave her presence, your heart will ache just a bit. She will inspire you to always look for the good in everything around you, and she will definitely change your life. She certainly has changed mine. From:DallasEmail:

Maricarol Hansen Sunday, 4/4/10, 9:12 AM Bernice my sisters has a ranch in Brady, Texas and she said that they drove by you as you were riding through the area. She said that for some reason she was drawn to know more about you and then saw an article in their paper about your ride. When I talked to her this morning my heart leaped with your story and I too felt a strong desire to know more. I have a tightness in my chest right now and feel as though I might cry (not sure why). I feel honored to have gotten to know just a bit about you from your website. If you are ever in Iowa I would love to meet you and have you stay at our home in the country. We have a barn for the horses as well. Story City is north of Des Moines right off the Interstate. Jackie FlemingWednesday, 4/14/10, 1:18 PM Hi Bernice I just got your card and have read your updates on this site. I am in tears thinking of Honor, I find it hard to even come up with words of comfort, they all seem so lame. I know what it is like to lose horses and some of those have had a special bond and it is truly like losing a piece of yourself. I am sure it is worse when you have shared so much with that soul that nobody else will ever know of or see or feel. Along with Claire and Essie, you guys have been through so much that all of us can only read about and only if you write it down. It must be hard to move on and leave her behind but I am glad you can. 'Hart' sounds like a lovely new friend supplied by yet more friends. Good luck with the rest of the trip and safe travels to you all. Keep in touch! Love Jackie From:Santa Fe, NMEmail: skydogjackie@rocketmail.com

Laura PaulMonday, 4/12/10, 8:44 PM Bernice, It was great to meet you. Astonished and in awe of your accomplishments of such a dangerous trek on horseback. I admire your courage. Thank you for blessing me with our conversation on Sunday morning. You have been on my mind as severe weather rolls through the Panhandle of Texas and how caring and committed to your animals. I only wish more people would show dedication and commitment to their animal. The world would be a better place. Thank you for opening my eyes to the blessings that strangers can bestow on one another. Please keep in touch! May God be your strength during your journey. Cheryl KaluzaMonday, 4/12/10, 7:36 PM Hi Bernice, My husband and I saw you on the road twice (between Llano and Brady, TX) with horse and dog. Something about you struck us and I kept thinking about you & wondering about your story. Then we saw an article in the Brady paper about you being a Long Rider and a bit of your story. I told my sister in Iowa your story and she wanted to meet you also. I think that she has sent you an email to which you replied. I hope you meet her-- she is lovely. I am sorry to hear about the loss of your horse, Honor, in Texas but happy to hear about your new horse, Hart. I wish you much luck & many blessings on the ride ahead. If you ever make it back to Voca, TX (near Brady), just know that you have an invitation to stay at our ranch. We will be retiring there at the end of this year. Lisa "Bucky" EadesMonday, 4/5/10, 3:25 PM I just spent two days camping with Bernice at the baseball field in Spur, TX. For those of you wanting to meet her, she is heading north on 70, going towards Dickens, Roaring Springs and Turkey, TX. If you find her and can help her out with a place to stay, she is most, most appreciative. Folks, she is an incredible person. A once-in-a-lifetime, you-gotta-meet-her type person. A true gem traveling the backroads of our country with a heart so big, you won't believe it. Her horses are beautiful and little Francis the dog...she is something else! I wanted to take Essie away with me, but she wouldn't fit in my car! Hart is just that, all heart and such a handsome guy. When you encounter Bernice on the road, it will literally take your breath away and when you leave her presence, your heart will ache just a bit. She will inspire you to always look for the good in everything around you, and she will definitely change your life. She certainly has changed mine. Maricarol HansenSunday, 4/4/10, 9:12 AM Bernice my sisters has a ranch in Brady, Texas and she said that they drove by you as you were riding through the area. She said that for some reason she was drawn to know more about you and then saw an article in their paper about your ride. When I talked to her this morning my heart leaped with your story and I too felt a strong desire to know more. I have a tightness in my chest right now and feel as though I might cry (not sure why). I feel honored to have gotten to know just a bit about you from your website. If you are ever in Iowa I would love to meet you and have you stay at our home in the country. We have a barn for the horses as well. Story City is north of Des Moines right off the Interstate. Melissa BarbourTuesday, 3/9/10, 8:07 PM Dear Bernice, I couldn't quite breath well when I read your post about losing Honor. My heart stopped and all I could do was wish you be held by the Greatest of Angels. I have been there with my beloved Bailey as he breathed his last, far, far too soon. We all must go on and my theory on that is, the hurt never gets less, but further away. For me, I know you have a most beautiful Guardian Angel Horse, and her name is Honor. She loved you so much and will never be far away from you, ever. Bravo for your continuing your journey, even if it's different now, surely it is not one iota less. I hope and am preparing for my own ride, and hope our paths cross again, out there, somewhere. Bless you my friend, with each breath and every step. Adrienne WalshTuesday, 3/9/10, 4:48 PM I found out about you and your rides from the Tennessee Trailriders website. I started reading about your trips and was so jealous of your freedom! Then I read of your loss of Honor...tears poured down my face as I read...embarrassing as I was still at work...now I am just heartbroken for you. I hope you and Essie form as close a bond, but I know it won't be the same. My thoughts and prayers are with you in the next stage of your life. Ride safe, girl, and don't stop riding. The ones of us who must stay home and work and raise children and take care of parents can look to you and see the freedom of the open road from the back of a trusted and loved horse. God bless you. Megan & FancyWednesday, 3/3/10, 4:05 PM Bernice, I don't mean to be a pest as this is my second time here this week... and I know that you don't know me all that well...but I thought pretty hard about it and I am doing my Long Ride this year in MEMORY of Honor. The ride is dedicated to my Family...but I will be riding in Memory of Honor. Just for some reason, her death impacted me sooo much and I can only imagine how hard this loss is for you. But I will be carrying her story to all the small towns along the way. My ride is no where near yours (only between 1100-1300 miles) or will I ever even match what you have accomplished... but I just wanted to say thanks for being such an inspiration and a big help to me as I set out this month. I have watched the Tucker video and you inadvertently taught me how to pack among other things that I have learned from your journey about how to make a Long Ride of my own. Take good care of yourself and I hope that your team makes it home safely. Peace & Blessings...and I hope you don't mind that I do this for you and the best riding partner a Long Rider could

Mike and Toni Gallimore Tuesday, 2/23/10, 5:17 PM I'm not sure that it is my place to relate the following, but for those of you who are keeping up with Bernice through this venue: Tone and I became concerned with Chris Brasher's post of 23 Feb. and called her. Her friend Sharon Murphy returned the call and related the following: Berince had made it into Wimberley (the home of her sister) and put Honor and Essie up at the Wimberley rodeo grounds and stalls. Somehow, Honor sustained a serious puncture and break in her shoulder on the site. Ms. Murphy trailered them to the vet to find that the injury was irreparable and Honor had to be put down. Bernice is understandably taking some time to contemplate her standing and the rest of her journey. I rest assured that Texas hospitality will see Ms. Ende when, where, and how she wishes to proceed. Jen FrameFriday, 2/19/10, 5:03 PM Hello Bernice! I was in the Red Bud Cafe in Blanco Texas this afternoon, and saw in the Blanco County News that you had passed through Blanco last weekend. I was thrilled that you are seeing our gorgeous part of Texas, but so sad to have missed you. I would have loved to have you stay with us, and put your horses in our pasture. And I think my Fjord Splendor would have loved meeting your Fjord! Me and my horse loving friend Kate would love to drive out and find you, and bring you food and goodies for your horses, and sit down with you by the side of the road for tea or lunch. But I don't know where to find you! If you can e-mail with your where abouts this weekend (Feb. 20 and 21, that would be great. Or call me (415) 637-5157. It is a San Francisco cell phone but I am in Johnson City! PLease be sure to tell me if there is anything you need or want: like food for you and your horses, or another sleeping bag, or dog treats, etc!!!! Toni Holmes Monday, 2/15/10, 7:53 AM Dearest Bernice, In all of my life I have never felt so totally inspired and loved as I did in L'bach at the hugin. It isn't the words we shared, but the warmth in your heart and the deep understanding of the goodness of mankind that shines so brightly in your eyes. Thank you for sharing such sincerity with all of us at the Troy King Camp. All send their love and best wishes. Hopefully we will cross paths again on the road someday. Until next time. Elaine WelchSaturday, 2/13/10, 9:16 AM On Saturday, Feb. 6th, I passed Bernice on FM 1221. I did a double take, as I had not seen someone like her on that stretch of road before. I had my blind cousin with me and was frantically trying to describe what I was seeing as doing this very thing is a long time dream of his. We slowed and because I didn't want to spook the horses, but didn't stop because I thought they might be training for a long ride and wouldn't appreciate the interruption. We have talked about what we saw often during the last week and I kicked myself repeatedly for not stopping and asking questions. Had I known I would have offered shelter to all of them as I have horses of my own and the weather has not been very conducive to being out doors. I wish you the best of travels and many star studded nights. If you are ever back our way, I would love to visit. Maybe we will meet on the trail someday. Marla MeranteThursday, 2/4/10, 4:52 AM My friend just forwarded your site to us. If you plan on being in the Adirondack Park in northern, NY you are free to spend a night or two here. We have been building our farm from the ground and trees up - no house yet. But we have built a great new post and beam barn with a cozy, but beautiful heated tack room that we could put you up in. Many of us talk of long rides; but for me it is always preceded by; "if I didn't have the farm..." Good luck and thanks for the inspiration. We met Bernice last week when she came through Midland. We tracked her down yesterday in a town called Stiles and Shod her horses. She was camped out at an old abandoned court house. It was a great adventure in our own back yard. Way off the beaten path. Josh, our 3 year old son, had quite a time exploring the "castle" with Bernice, he said it was "awesome".

Thank you so much, Bernice, for your friendship ... and for travelling our way. We wish you safe travelling and may our trails cross again someday.

2 peas in a pod we are. Hi, I left Socorro in 1993 on my mtn bike and traveled for 4 yrs (24k miles) in different parts of the world and slept in tent every night. Then some one invited me onboard their sailboat for coffee one day and I learned they lived on the boat and if you had a sailboat you go anywhere in the world. In 1997 I bought a sailboat and still live onboard while traveling the world, giving programs, volunteering in schools to help out in English classes. We think the same way after seeing your site. I don't have a site, only a 1 on 1 with people. We have a very rewarding life in the slow lane. I love your photos, George

Bernice, you are such a wonderful inspiration. I hope to be able to do what you are doing some day! I would leave today except that I think it would be quite a scene with 2 dogs, a cat and a dozen sheep following along! one day though- hopefully I will be able to meet up with you then and ride a few days together. Warm wishes to you at this new year.

I've been following your web site and stories for a couple of years now and tend to go into withdrawal and angst when weeks go by and I don't see where you are and what's up. I am hopeful that when you get into Arkansas I can catch up with you and sit down and visit. I so admire what you are doing, may never do it myself but I'll live vicariously thru you. So keep it up and be safe. Peggy

I am so inspired by Bernice and her animals. To follow her travels makes me smile and feel great inside. I live in the Adirondacks and very much look forward to seeing you all when you get here. You have a place to stay in Lake Placid if you are passing this way. Please take care and have safe journeys. Marci Wenn

It was a pleasure to meet you. You are a living example of my dream, me and my horse. In my case I have 11 of them and I love them all dearly. Although I do have my "pets". Good luck to you and may God bless you and keep you safe. I will send some pictures of my "babies". Donna Salmon

Back in 1978 I met and rode a ways with a French Canadian guy named J. LeMay - driving a pair of fjords across the country. I was a horseshoer then and took care of his geldings. I went on a quest about fjords - (when there were only 8 breeders recognized in North America)-- later when I could actually get one- bought a good mare and then another- and was steeped in the whole deal for years- Now just my old guy left and some other 'regular' horses. I have always thought of this sort of 'ultimate freedom'. Certainly more work with the animals - I have done shorter versions years ago by bicycle-- but much less responsibility. I applaud your faith in the process and wish you the best of luck - - my sister who lives in Roswell sent this-- it just may be the first fissure in a rather difficult iceberg of our relationship. I am warmed by the fact she thought enough to send the clipping- another whole story -- Happy Trails Md

Bernice, I lost you for months and then found you tonight in my address book. I am the fisherman that had the trailer next to your cabin at the Oasis in Maupin, Oregon. You were staying in the campground Ms. Malafyt asked you to stay in one of their cabins. You were good luck because after our conversation that afternoon I caught a beautiful steelhead the next morning. I read your current notes in New Mexico. Did you see any flying saucers in Roslyn? I will be on my annual one month journey to New Zealand next month and I will try to send you an email from the Antipodes. Best of luck and good wishes to you and have a very merry Xmas. Dar Isensee
